Message from Leyla Nilüfer Yılmaz, National Coordinator

As The International Award for Young People – Türkiye enters its 23rd year, we continue our work with determination to support young people's social, personal, and civic development. Our aim is to contribute to the growth of young individuals who are highly self-aware, responsible, and who add value to both themselves and society.

The success of this journey has been made possible through the dedicated and long-standing contributions of our valued volunteers, who have walked alongside us on a voluntary basis for many years. Reaching more than 20,000 young people to date clearly demonstrates the impact of the Programme. Our work, currently sustained by approximately 800 active volunteers who take on mentoring roles in delivering the Award, stands as a strong example of how genuine volunteering requires continuity, commitment, and effort.

Throughout 2025, numerous training sessions and update meetings were delivered to enhance the quality and sustainability of the Programme, alongside a motivation meeting held with the participation of our volunteers.

Message from Leyla Nilüfer Yılmaz, National Coordinator

Through Award-related workshops and Q&A sessions, interaction with our volunteers was strengthened, and environments for knowledge sharing and collective learning were created. In this context, we have completed an intensive yet highly productive year.

In addition, we took part in an international meeting held in Nigeria, attended by representatives of the Award family from countries around the world. During this gathering, examples of good practice were shared, and meaningful exchanges of ideas took place. This meeting represented a significant gain in terms of strengthening international cooperation and contributing to the global development of the Programme.

Looking ahead, our goal is to reach more young people, support their holistic development by increasing awareness, and ensure that the Award Programme remains a sustainable learning journey. In line with this vision, we place great importance on our graduates maintaining their connection with the Award family, contributing to the development of the Programme, and taking active roles in initiatives carried out together with our alumni.

Working with young people means keeping pace with the speed and constant change of life. However, the true value lies in young people's commitment to developing themselves, contributing to society and to their own growth, and taking ownership of this journey with awareness. As the Award Programme, we continue our work with the same belief and enthusiasm by bringing together the experience and knowledge of our long-standing volunteers with the energy, ideas, and dynamism of young people, drawing inspiration from this powerful collaboration.

ABOUT THE AWARD

The Award has been an inspiration to millions of young people, encouraging them to change their lives since 1956. Participants design their own Award, set their goals, and track their progress. The Award plays a significant role in young people's lives outside of school by creating opportunities for them to be active, develop skills, focus on physical recreation, engage in voluntary service, and experience adventurous journey. The Award enables young people's achievements to be recognized worldwide and provides them with a unique international experience. Additionally, the Award helps young people inspire others and communities, while also aiding their personal growth. Young people who participate in the Award learn to be confident and solution-oriented. They develop communication, problem-solving, and leadership skills. As a result, they positively impact society in areas such as health, education, and employment.

The International Award for Young People – Türkiye is an international program that encourages young people aged 14 to 24 to set goals, achieve them, celebrate their successes, and make a difference in society, while supporting extracurricular education.

"Taking part in the Award helped me step out of my comfort zone in a meaningful way. Over time, it supported me in developing self-discipline and brought a new activity into my life that I truly value."

Award Participant, Aybüke Öğrenmiş

HISTORY OF THE AWARD

1956

The Award was first established and implemented in 1956 in the United Kingdom under the name "The Duke of Edinburgh's Award" by Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh.

1995

Turkey was introduced to the Award in 1995. The first implementers of the Award in our country were the Turkish-British Friendship Association and a few schools.

2001

The Youth Award Association was established by educators and representatives of non-governmental organizations who implemented the "International Award for Young People Program" within their own institutions, and the program began to be managed by the association.

2003

The Award began introducing and implementing the program to TIKAV scholarship holders and, with approval from the Ministry of National Education (MEB), in 7 provinces. During this period, the evaluation and certification of the implementation were the responsibility of the International Award Foundation.

2013

It was implemented under the name "The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award-Turkey" from June 1, 2013, to July 9, 2020.

2020

Since July 9, 2020, it has continued to be implemented under the name "International Award for Young People - Turkey" (IAYP-TR) under the representation of the Turkish Human Resources Education and Health Foundation (TIKAV).

RESIDENTAL PROJECT:

WE BECAME CP AMBASSADORS; WE BUILT BONDS, NOT JUST DEVICES

IAYP-TR Gold Category Participants came together in the 2025 period for a meaningful project centred on social awareness. Implemented in collaboration with one of our strategic partners, SERÇEV (the Cerebral Palsy Children's Association), the project titled "We Became CP Ambassadors; We Built Bonds, Not Just Devices" enabled Gold Category participants to carry out field activities in Ankara, creating direct and tangible social impact.

Throughout the project, participants engaged with individuals with cerebral palsy and their families, going beyond volunteering activities to develop empathy, raise awareness, and strengthen their sense of social responsibility. Through direct interaction, they gained deeper insight into individual needs and built meaningful, lasting connections.

This experience not only supported participants personal development but also contributed to a stronger awareness of social inclusion and cohesion. The connections formed beyond perceived barriers clearly demonstrated the social impact dimension of the Gold Category process in a concrete and meaningful way.

IGE & FORUM 2025 NIGERIA

17-23 NOVEMBER 2025 | NIGERIA

The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award Foundation and Nigeria National Authority hosted a significant global gathering focused on the worldwide development of the Award as part of IGE & Forum 2025, held in Lagos, Nigeria, from 17 to 23 November 2025.

Throughout the events in Lagos, approximately 200 young people from over 50 countries, alongside hundreds of volunteers and international stakeholders working in the youth sector, came together. As part of the programme, young people participated in an intensive three-day youth leadership programme, followed by the Award's triennial Forum, where discussions focused on expanding global access to the Award and identifying ways to engage more young people in this journey.

Over the past year, nearly 1.2 million young people in more than 130 countries have taken part in the Award Programme.

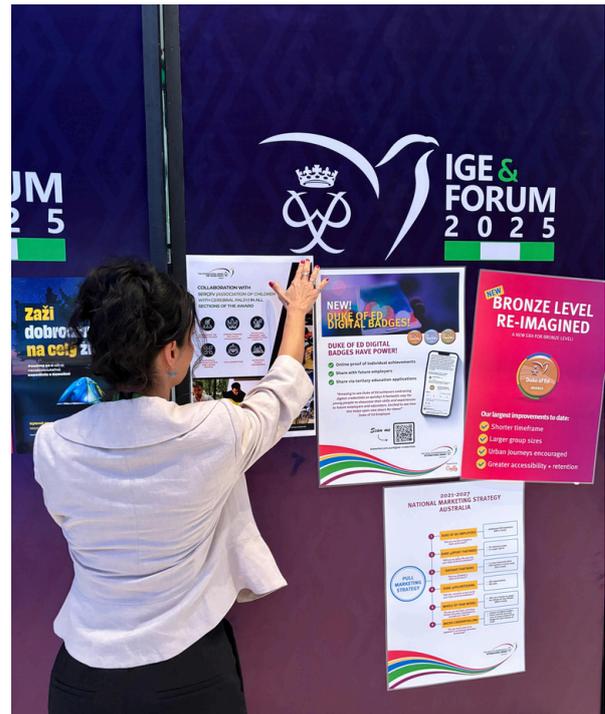

The Award brings together young people from around the world around shared values and a sense of global responsibility.

IGE & FORUM 2025 NIGERIA

The international gathering was also actively represented by The International Award for Young People – Türkiye. Our National Coordinator Leyla Nilüfer Yılmaz, Training Coordinator Kivanç Aker, and award holder Bora Tezkan, who successfully completed all three Award levels and qualified to participate in the International Gold Event (IGE), took part in sessions, strategic discussions, and Award Practice Visits held in Lagos. Within this scope, key topics such as youth empowerment, inclusion, accessibility, volunteer training, international cooperation, and enhancing the global impact of the Award were discussed. In addition, meetings with Award participants in Nigeria once again highlighted how the programme acts as a cross-cultural bridge, creating meaningful transformation in the lives of young people.

IGE & Forum 2025 powerfully demonstrated that the Award contributes not only to individual development but also to global social impact, solidarity, and a shared vision for the future.

WHAT CAN WE DO TOGETHER?

CORPORATE PARTNERSHIPS

The International Award For Young People – Türkiye is an international program that encourages young people aged 14-24 to set goals, achieve those goals, celebrate their success, and make a difference in society, supporting extracurricular education.

The Award is based on the principle of learning by doing and aims to equip participants with the essential 21st-century competencies that are required in today's workplace. In this way, it prepares them for social life and professional careers. The Award, with the training it provides, becomes one of the key elements employers look for in candidates' resumes, giving graduates an advantage in recruitment.

We collaborate with companies to offer Talent Development, Internship Programs, and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Projects. Throughout the project, we aim to increase the awareness of the Award in Türkiye and involve as many young people as possible in the Award. We also encourage employees from our partner companies to become Award Leaders (mentors). Currently, we are partnering with leading companies in their respective sectors. Such corporate partnerships are also common in international examples of the Award.

WHAT CAN WE DO TOGETHER?

VOLUNTEERING

The greatest factor in reaching more young people through the Award is our volunteers. You can also become an Award volunteer and support young people in completing the Award by guiding them throughout the Award process. As part of our large volunteer family, you can meet with Award Leaders like yourself at various events throughout the year and become part of a national and international community.

EVENT SPONSORSHIP

Throughout the year, various events involving our participants and volunteers are organized. You can help organize these events with us and witness the achievements of young people.

For more information, you can contact us at info@intaward.org.tr.

STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP

Activities are carried out in alignment with the impact measures of the Award on society. Your organization can also form a Strategic Partnership with us and collaborate in accordance with our vision, mission, and goals to create stronger projects.
